Maria Helena Kopschitz Scholarship for MA in Anglo-Irish Literature and Drama, University College Dublin

Announcement and Call for Applications

The School of English, Film and Drama, University College Dublin, is pleased to announce the creation of the Maria Helena Kopschitz Scholarship to enable a Brazilian student to pursue the MA in Anglo-Irish Literature and Drama, University College Dublin. The scholarship honours the pioneering contribution to Irish studies in Brazil made by Professor Maria Helena Kopschitz. The scholarship entitles the holder to full tuition (international fee) for the one-year course (September 2014 to August 2015) and a bursary to cover travel and accommodation costs.

The competitive award will be judged by a selection committee; applications will be judged by academic qualifications and professional suitability for the Masters in Anglo-Irish Literature and Drama programme. Candidates must have completed a Bachelors programme to high honours level in a Brazilian university by date of application. Candidates must also meet all criteria for acceptance to UCD's Master programmes in English (including provision of academic transcripts and successful completion of UCD English language requirements; see below).

Information on the MA programme is available at
